THE CENTENNIAL.

Programme for the Washington Inauguration Centennial.

The official programme for the celebration of Washington's inauguration as first President of the United States is published. The principal features are the opening of the Exhibition of Historical Portraits, April 17th; arrival of President Harrison from Elizabethport, and a naval review with a centennial ball in the evening, April 29th; Thanksgiving services in churches, those at St. Paul's being attended by the President, followed by commemorative centennial exercises at the Sub-Treasury Building and a great military parade, followed by reception and banquet, April 30th; industrial and civic parade May 1st, and close of the historical loan exhibition May 8th. The military parade will include military and naval cadets, troops of the regular army and the National Guard, the following order for each State contingent being headed by its Governor and his staff: Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Georgia, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New York, North Carolina and Rhode Island. The other States follow in the order admitted into the Union. Following will be 200 companies of the Loyal Legion and then posts of the Grand Army. The commemorative exercises will consist of prayer by Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs, a poem by John Greenleaf Whittier, an oration by Channing M. Depew, an address by President Harrison and a benediction by Archbishop Corrigan.

The New York Offices.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—About all the political lights who are supposed to have a hand in the settlement of the question of the big offices in New York are in the city. It is understood that the Vice President's visit to the White House to-day was on that matter. They expect everything to be settled within a short time. Platt, Erhardt, Van Cott and a lot of other New Yorkers are here hard at work. It is looked upon as practically assured that Van Cott will be Postmaster of New York City, and that Erhardt will be Collector of the Port. Collector Magone came over to-day in response to a telegram and had a long talk with Secretary Windom. He is prepared to give way to his successor immediately. The Appraisership and Naval Office are still unsettled, but an agreement is hoped for by to-morrow.

Lincoln Formally Accepts.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Robert T. Lincoln called upon the President and Secretary Blaine to-day and formally accepted the English mission. He will sail for England about the 15th of May.

Ex-Governor McCreery, of Kentucky, during his nine years' service in the United States Senate, saved $40,000 from his salary, and won a reputation for economy which is still talked about at the capital. There was a cheap hotel in Georgetown whose rates were some $7 a week for board and lodging, and here McCreery lived. He would walk from this place to the Capitol and back every day, thus saving a dollar or so a week in car fare, and his personal expenses were insignificant. None of his salary went to hackmen, to florists, to Wornley or Chamberlain; he never played poker and never went to the theaters, and when he quit Congress he had enough to live on for the rest of his days.

Little Rhody has played Hades. The Legislature is Democratic, and will elect a Democrat to succeed Senator Chace.

The President expects to be able to decide upon the appointment of a Government Printer within a month.

Water Commissioners.

The Humboldt Board of County Commissioners has recommended to the Governor as suitable persons from whom to select a Water Commissioner for District No. 4, L. N. Carpenter, of Lovelocks, G. W. Meschan, of Humboldt House; J. F. Clark, of Mill City; James Ritchie, of Paradise Valley; P. N. Marker, of Lovelocks, and A. D. Wilcox, of Winnemucca.

In connection with this matter, the Board called the attention of the Governor to the fact that the people who suffer most from the unequal distribution of the waters of the Humboldt river are those who reside between Winnemucca and the Sink of Humboldt, and stated that, in the opinion of the Board, any of the gentlemen named would be satisfactory to the people most concerned in the matter.

The Elko Board has recommended John A. Palmer for District No. 4, and Robert Collier for Owyhee Water District No. 1.

The Depreciation in Silver.

John Ross assayed a piece of silver ore the other day, says the Silver State, and found that it contained silver in the proportion of 14,836 ounces to the ton of ore. The rich yield led him to make an estimate of the loss the depreciation in silver would cause in a ton of such ore, and he found that at 93 cents per ounce, the market value of silver at present, the 14,836 ounces would bring $13,788 45, while its assay value would be $19,169 84, showing a loss of $5,380 39.

THE ROUND VALLEY RESERVOIR.

An Important Factor in Greenville's Prosperity.

One of the most important factors in the prosperity of Greenville, in fact, of Indian Valley, is the Round Valley Reservoir, situated near town and about 900 feet above it. Discussing this property, in a recent issue, the Mining and Scientific Press says:

The construction was commenced in 1868, and up to this date represents a cost of over $100. Its purpose is to supply the mines of Greenville district with the necessary water. These dependent upon the reservoir are the Johnny Bull, Drury, Pacific, Forest King, the Quaker group, Round Valley Consolidated, New York, Plumas Con., O'Toole and Summit, McLennan Claims, Green Mountain and others. The company have eight miles of ditch for the distribution of water, on the line of which is a syphon composed of 5,000 feet of 22 inch pipe crossing a canyon under a pressure of 400 feet. The company make their basis of rates for water furnished on 50 per cent of cost of steam power, including the water used for battery purposes. This estimate is made with the assumption that both plants are on the ground. Thus, while furnishing the company with a handsome revenue, the mines are supplied at an exceedingly low cost. As high as $1,400 per month has been realized by the company from the water.

Owing to the light winters for the past two years, the supply of water which depends on snow and rain, has been short, and the company have been unable to supply the demand. They have hopes to secure a good quantity this season. The dam proper is 300 feet long and 28 feet in height, constructed with a stone wall on the center and loose dirt on the sides. It is the most natural site for a reservoir imaginable, and its location is quite picturesque. It covers over 800 acres and will hold an average depth of 15 feet of water, and has a watershed of 40 square miles. An item that is no small moment is the fact that it is surrounded for miles and miles of the best timber in the State, from which must be long spring a lumbering industry of great magnitude. Then will this great water storage be of utility in furnishing the power to run the mills that will be called into operation by lumbermen, after which it may be conducted to the fertile lands of Indian Valley for irrigation.

"Annual Statistician."

McCarthy's "Annual Statistician and Economist" for 1889 is at hand. The San Francisco Bulletin says it grows slightly every year in volume, and very considerably in the completeness with which it is prepared. This year it is a closely printed volume of 672 pages, and contains a vast amount of condensed information upon almost every conceivable topic which the community has learned to expect from this publication. Its various departments, including the reviews of the world's progress and the record of current events, have been brought down to the close of 1888, and in some instances to the end of March, 1889, an addendum slip containing, among other recent occurrences, a notice of the recent Samoan disaster. While the former departments have been kept up to their customary standard, some entirely new features have been added, among which may be mentioned a history of the several counties of California, each considered separately, with especial stress upon the resources and population of the State, according to latest figures and estimates; a list of some one hundred and fifty "Rare and Useful Facts," presented in a manner to satisfy the learned while interesting the most unlearned, and many other valuable and interesting features. To the educator and the journalist particularly the "Statistician" is a mine of wealth and the reference book par excellence, giving in the most condensed form the information which, in its absence, would have to be gleaned from a library of encyclopedias, technical dictionaries and other works of reference. The "Statistician" is published by L. P. McCarthy and is for sale by subscription only.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

Seats for "Little Lord Fauntleroy" are now sold two weeks in advance, and a steady line of purchasers are always in front of the San Francisco Baldwin Theater box office. The Baldwin is crowded, not only for six nights in the week, but also at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees. "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has proved thus far a veritable bonanza, and the San Francisco engagement will go down in history as something almost unprecedented.

A Horse Thief.

The Enterprise, of Thursday, has this: A few days since a stranger hired a horse and buggy from a Reno livery man and drove to Virginia City, promising to return the same day. Not returning for two days Deputy Constable, C. W. Jones, of Reno, drove to Virginia in arrest of his man day before yesterday, but to this writing, has not been able to even get on his trail.

The horse and buggy were brought back to Reno all right, but the man is still missing.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The Route Pursued by the Surveying Party North from Alturas—Trouble over a Right of Way.

The Alturas New Era, of March 30th, has the subject:

Wm. S. O'Brien, nephew of Dennis O'Brien, of Alturas, who went north with the U. P. surveying party, left the party at Badger Springs, Grant county, Oregon, ten days ago and returned here. At the time Billy left the party were at, or near, Crane Creek Gap, in Harney county, where the line intersected a line of survey made some time ago by engineers employed by the U. P. people, from Ontario on the Oregon Short Line.

At this point the surveyors encountered a mile of track laid by the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company, which had been placed to hold the right of way through the gap. It was reported at the time the O. P. Company would put a large force of men at work in the canyon grading and tracklaying, and that trouble was expected between the two companies of engineers. Crane Creek Gap is the only outlet to the valley, consequently all lines are contending for it.

O'Brien could not say where the Oregon Pacific's line was heading, but presumed it also was seeking a route through this section.

From Lakeview the route surveyed runs through Crooked Creek, along the east side of Albert lake to Wagontire, in Grant county; thence to Badger Springs, to Hot Spring; thence to the valley in which is situated Harney and Malheur lakes, in Harney county, thence to Crane Gap, where the company would halt and send in reports to headquarters. The engineers expected to retrace their steps over this route, for the purpose of setting grade stakes.

O'Brien, from what he heard the engineers say, is of the opinion that the work of building the road will begin as soon as possible after the route is accepted.

The engineers' orders were to push the work of survey with all possible speed. From Crane Creek Gap to Alturas the distance by the line of survey is over 300 miles.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Some of the Good Things Going On at Carson.

The Carson Tribune, of Thursday evening, has these items of general interest:

THE DISTRICT FAIR GROUND.

Messrs McCullough, Notewere and Ciroe, the gentlemen who were appointed to select and purchase the land for the District Fair, are hard at work trying to make arrangements for a suitable piece of property. There are several sites which seem advantageous and it will stand those in hand who own the ground to be as easy as possible in their terms, for the committee is comprised of men who will not be imposed upon nor led by the nose, but who will make such selection as appears to be likely to best benefit the business men of the city. So far no decision has been arrived at, but doubtless before many days a purchase will be effected.

THAT ELECTRIC LIGHT.

It appears that the Board of Capitol Commissioners have in their wisdom, decided to have four electric lights on the Capitol grounds instead of one brilliant light in the dome, which would illuminate the whole block. Much work and wire pulling was used to secure the small appropriation and it seems the general desire to have one light as mentioned above, but as a matter of course the mandate of the powers that be must be accepted, but, well it does seem that the wishes of the poor, dear people might be consulted just a little bit.

ROBBERY INTENTIONS.

Warden Frank McCullough was not stopped by highwaymen on Sunday night, as stated in the Appeal this morning. He states, however, that he saw four men in the road and they acted in a strange manner. The presumption is that they were lying in wait for guard Hammond, who was seen to get three or four hundred dollars at Livingston's during the night, but they failed to bag their game.

The Garrard Act.

The Austin Reveille, of Wednesday, says:

J. L. Wines in his statement before Judge Fitzgerald to dismiss the Crum versus Swales case, said that the Central Pacific Company would henceforth, before leasing, mark their lands, so as to come under the provisions of the Garrard Act. What is termed sufficient boundary lines under the new law, will probably come up before the Court in a future trespass suit.

The Garrard Act, No. 138, as one of the statutes of law, placed a new phase on the suit of Crum versus Swales, so that the attorneys for the prosecution moved that it be dismissed. Under its provisions, there was nothing to gain on either side, they would be just as well off after a decision, as before it, as the Garrard Act now regulates and sets forth what is trespassing, so that both sides saw the foolishness of proceeding and incur the unnecessary expense. What will play an important part in future litigation between cattle and sheep raisers under the present law, is what will be regarded as sufficient boundary to mark possession of land against trespass. In taking a cursory glance over it, it seems to us as if a shrewd lawyer drew it up leaving weak points in it, so that there should exist many chances for continuous litigation.

Beckwith Pass.

The Plumas National says: Several railroad surveyors are in town, and twenty more are on the road between here and Buckeye. Active preparations are being made for a thorough survey of the route from Reno through Beckwith Pass, down the Middle Feather to Oroville. Beckwith Pass certainly possesses one advantage over all other proposed routes: there is not a particle of snow on the line from Reno to Sacramento Valley, while the Deer Creek Pass is covered with from two to eight feet of the "beautiful."

Now She Toots.

The Oroville Mercury says: That the Union Pacific will build through Beckwith Pass, down the Middle Feather by way of Oroville, is now regarded as certain. If so, we shall have railroad shops at Oroville, as she is the point nearest the mountains. We can give them all the land they want, and can furnish better and cheaper power than any town in the State.

W. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, appointed as Minister to Corea, has refused the position.

AN OPEN QUESTION.

Is Harrison a Descendant of Pocahontas?

It is popularly believed that President Harrison is descended from Pocahontas and from the Parliamentary soldier and regicide General Thomas Harrison who was executed in 1660.

Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, manifested a friendliness for the early white settlers of Virginia when she was but a girl. The story of how she saved the life of Captain John Smith, who had been captured and condemned to death by her father—how she, on several occasions, made known to the settlers their danger when about to be attacked—is well known to all acquainted with the early history of America. Her subsequent marriage with John Rolfe, an Englishman—her removal to England where a son was born, from whom numerous wealthy families of Virginia claim descent—is the basis of the opinion that President Harrison is one of her descendants.

Whether this be true or not it is, however, well-known that President Harrison is a descendant of a noted family, distinguished alike in peace and war. The name of Harrison is already indelibly written upon the pages of American history, for General Wm. Henry Harrison—the ninth President of the United States—was the grandfather of Gen. Ben. Harrison.

The election of another member of the Harrison family is but another proof of the prevailing disposition of the public to return to healthy administration of public affairs so characteristic of the early years of government. A similar desire has been manifested for a revival of early manners and customs in many various ways, of which mention in particular can be made of the prevailing demand for those old time preparations which were so successfully employed in the prevention and cure of the ill and ailments which frequented the early log-cabin homes.

After much inquiry and research a noted manufacturer has procured the original methods used in their preparation and again under the name of Warner's Log Cabin Remedies, the public is possessed of those well-known preparations for the cure of coughs, colds, consumption in its early stages, blood disorders, catarrh, dyspepsia, debility, and other common disorders.

Notwithstanding the large amount of time, attention and expense which the manufacture of Warner's Safe Cure demands—its well-known reputation as the only remedy for the prevention and cure of kidney diseases being world wide—the manufacturer is resolved to push the merit of Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla to the front because of its splendid blood purifying properties and great value as a household remedy and spring-time system renovator.

Pocahontas, during her life-long friendship for the white settlers of Virginia, besides her many acts of kindness, is said to have contributed much valuable information to the log cabin home concerning the successful methods employed by the Indians in the treatment of disease and it matters little whether the alleged relationship between herself and the President be true or not for the name of Pocahontas is already immortal.

Auction of Buggies and Wagons.

I will sell at auction, in order to make room for a new invoice of goods, Saturday, April 6th, a fine lot of buggies, wagons and carts. Most of these goods are new, and some are of the best manufacture. The sale to commence at 2 P. M., in front of the Opera House Dry Goods Store.

THE PINE NUT MURDERS.

They Are Believed to Have Been the Work of Indians.

Carson, April 4.—John Elks, the Indian who was killed last Sunday by Mudge, had a long conversation with Oliver Roberts, of this city, about a month before his death, which will possibly throw some light on the frequent murders in the Pine Nut country, which is about twenty-five miles from this city. Elks said that for some years the white men had cut timber on the Pine Nut Range, and that none of the men who cut timber had any title to the land, as it had belonged to the Indians for centuries. The pine nuts are harvested in the Fall and ground into flour, and is a staple article of food during the Winter.

Elks complained bitterly of the depredations of the timber cutters, and said that they were thinning out the forests so fast that the Indians feared that a total failure of the pine-nut crop would result. He also hinted that the Indians had the means at their disposal to stop the ravages of the timber cutters. It is therefore quite probable that the many mysterious murders committed in that range of mountains were the work of Indians who wish to save what they consider their property, and in some cases their only means of sustenance.

The murdered men have all been wood-cutters, or engaged in hauling away timber and in no instance has a miner been killed. Gain does not seem to have been the object of the murders, as the parties whose bodies were found have seldom had much money about them.

Under these circumstances it is more than probable that the killing of the Canadian teamster there last week was the handiwork of Indians.

The New Russ House.

Though Reno has not had any boom, nor desires any, preferring to advance step by step on the sure solid road of prosperity, yet it is undeniable that improvements are going on all over the town. Buildings are going up, houses are being removed to more advantageous sites, the buzz of the saw and ringing stroke of the hammer resound like music in the air, and everywhere mechanics and artisans are as busy as bees—all tending to improve and beautify the town.

First in the list of marked enterprises has been the renovation from top to bottom of the Russ House, on Centre street, of which Charley Chacovich is the enterprising proprietor. Some years ago he purchased the property from the Winterman estate, and found it in a dilapidated condition. He repaired it then and leased it, but several months ago determined to occupy it himself in the future. A small army of workmen have been employed and their labors are now about complete. The house has been refurnished and painted from top to bottom. The whole ground floor has been converted into a handsome lined-up saloon and billiard parlor, with card rooms, finer than which cannot be found in the State. Up stairs are elegant hard-finished sleeping rooms with entirely new bedding and furniture. The front part of the upper story has been fitted up as a handsome, spacious club room and sporting parlor, where King Pharaoh and his majesty "Stud" reign supreme. The workmanship has been first-class and all done by local artisans, the fine wood work by Mr. Mitchell and the handsome papering, painting and decoration work by Mr. Nelson, exhibiting the finest handicraft. Mr. Chacovich now possesses one of the handsomest and most complete establishments in the State, an ornament to Reno and a monument to his industry, taste and enterprise.

Senatorial.

"It is now rumored around," said one of Austin's old politicians to the Austin Reveille, "that if Senator Jones does not wish to continue in the Senate that Fair will run again. In that case F. G. Newlands will contest on the Republican side, and then there will be fur flying. If Jones wishes to return, Fair will not tackle it, as he does not relish a losing fight, otherwise he will go in for a race. It is Jones or Newlands with the Republicans, and Jimmy Fair with the Democrats. If these aforesaid keep out, Humboldt county might furnish a candidate and Eureka one also."

Dry Everywhere.

The Silver State says H. J. Pratt, of the Jordan Valley Cattle Company, has been on a tour of observation through Southeastern Oregon, Idaho and Utah. He says the people complain of dry weather everywhere that he has been, though there is less cause for complaint in Southeastern Idaho and Utah than elsewhere. The Malheur river and the Owyhee, which are usually swollen and difficult to cross at this season, are very low, and Malheur county, Oregon, and Southern Idaho are suffering from drought as much as Nevada.

For West Point.

Henry Cutting, Nevada's cadet to West Point, left Reno last evening to spend a week in San Francisco, and will then return and go direct to the Military Academy at West Point to stand examination for admission. The young man has the JOURNAL's best wishes for a satisfactory examination, and a flying color graduation. Mrs. Cutting will accompany her boy to New York.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, and not or do not, see any difference in cheap medicines put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

SACRAMENTO, CAL.

THE OLD RELIABLE FURNITURE HOUSE OF JOHN Breuner is well worthy of note, and we take pleasure in devoting to it due space and attention. Mr. Breuner has been engaged in this business for thirty-three years and conducts one of the largest business houses in California. He manufactures and deals in all kinds of furniture and bedding, and has established a most enviable celebrity for the excellence of the goods turned out by his house. He carries a very large stock, embracing all grades and kinds of furniture and quotes prices that defy competition. His goods are all first-class, made of the best material and first-class workmanship, and the people cannot find a more advantageous house to deal with. He carries a supply of photographs of all goods, which will be sent free of charges to any address, and by this method people at a distance can select goods at home as well as in person at his house, and may rest assured of being satisfactorily and fairly treated by him. This is a most convenient and pleasant method for those abroad, and we recommend a trial of it.
